

Resolution on the 2024 U.S. Presidential Election

The Centrist Democrat International (IDC-CDI) recognizes the result of the U.S. elections held on November 6, 2024, as it reflects the will of the American people. The IDC-CDI emphasizes that democracy is strengthened when citizens exercise their right to vote, and it is essential to respect the electoral outcome regardless of partisan or ideological differences.

It is time to move beyond speculations and focus on the collective task of addressing the numerous challenges ahead. There is much to be done on the international stage and in building a more stable and prosperous future for all.

The IDC-CDI calls for a renewed commitment to strengthening global relations and focusing efforts on addressing a series of urgent challenges, including:

- Instability in the Middle East, where ongoing conflicts and the persistent threats of terrorist organizations like Hamas and Hezbollah continue to destabilize regional peace and security.
- The rising extremism of Iran, which continues to act as a destabilizing force in the region, fueling violence and obstructing peace initiatives.
- Russia's aggressive foreign policy, including its illegal invasion of Ukraine and efforts to increase its influence in Africa and Latin America, posing a threat to global security and democratic values.
- China's growing role in Africa and Latin America, presenting new challenges to the global balance of power, trade, and the protection of human rights.
- Relations with Europe, which must be strengthened through closer cooperation to face global challenges such as transatlantic security, climate change, and the strengthening of multilateral institutions that protect peace and human rights.
- The situation of dictatorships in Latin America and the impact of immigration on global political and economic stability. It is crucial to support the transition to democratic governments in the region and seek cooperative solutions to manage migratory flows, promoting stability and economic well-being for all nations involved.

The IDC-CDI reaffirms its support for democratic processes worldwide and calls on all governments to work together to address international challenges in a peaceful and cooperative manner.
